What is the Spend the Day with the Corps Program?
 The Spend the Day with the Corps (SDWC) program is an official campus visit to Texas A&M University offered each summer for rising high school juniors and seniors as well as their parents.

SDWC provides an outstanding opportunity to gain invaluable information about the University and the Corps of Cadets. Activities throughout the day include a university admissions application workshop, presentations from various departments around campus including scholarships and financial aid, involvement with Cadets, Staff and ROTC representatives, and tours.

During check-in, prospective students and families will be able to visit the many resource tables representing A&M's different college departments, organizations, and college preparatory agencies.

This fun and informative day will end with a "Fightin Texas Aggie" Yell Practice.

When is SDWC Offered?
 SDWC is offered twice each summer. For specific dates, go to corps.tamu.edu and click on Spend the Day with the Corps on the blue navigation bar.

The Spend the Day with the Corps Program (SDWC) continues to be a huge success. SDWC averages over 500 participants per program including parents and students.

Spend the Day with the Corps provided valuable information for me from the admissions process to what I should expect as a future cadet. I really enjoyed it.
